

Expert.ai participates in the GLOBAL MEGATRENDS CONFERENCE

Modena, September 6, 2021

Expert.ai announces its participation in the GLOBAL MEGATRENDS CONFERENCE, organized by TP ICAP Midcap, on Tuesday, September 7, 2021 in Paris (and in virtual mode).

Artificial Intelligence is among the trends in focus at the event, especially the areas of application with the greatest potential and the technologies that are significantly impacting business processes and accelerating the innovation and digital transformation paths of companies and public administrations.

Stefano Spaggiari, Executive Chairman of expert.ai, will highlight the potential of natural language understanding and natural language processing to the financial community, as demonstrated by the capabilities of the expert.ai platform aimed at making the adoption of artificial intelligence easier and more pervasive.

The expert.ai presentation will be made public on the morning of the event on the company's website in the Investor Relations section under Presentations.

This press release is available on the company's website at <https://www.expert.ai/> and at www.emarketstorage.com.

Expert.ai
